All the Personal estate

of the said deceased (except the crop of Tobacco) consisting of a number of valuable servants, among whom are some excellent house and kitchen servants, the stock of horses, two of which are very pleasant saddle horses, mules, cattle, sheep and hogs, plantation utensils of every kind, about 160 barrels of corn, 150 bushels of cloin rye, upwards of 20,000 weight of hay, a large crop of well saved straw, &c. &c. This property lies about one mile west of Bladensburg, directly on the old road to Georgetown and contiguous to the fine property of Wm. D. Diggs. The improvements are sufficient for the accommodation of a family of middling size and for the advantageous cultivation thereof; there are twenty six bushels of wheat seeded upon it and about 8 or 10 acres in thrifty clover, and a sufficiency of wood it is believed for its support—a further description is deemed unnecessary, as it is presumed that those who wish to buy will view the property previous to the sale. An indisputable title will be given. And at the dwelling in Bladensburg, a variety of articles of Household & kitchen Furniture, several volumes of valuable books, prints, maps and other articles too tedious to mention. The sale will commence on the farm, at 10 o'clock in the morning, and continue from day to day, till all is sold. Terms of sale are a credit of twelve months for all sums above ten pounds, the purchaser or purchasers to give bond, with two good and sufficient securities, carrying interest from the day of sale, and for all purchases to the amount of ten pounds and under the cash is to be paid.
