

BESIDE THE RIVER SPREE: AMERICAN SOLDIERS, STATIONED IN BERLIN and Off on an Afternoon's Outing, "Tripping the Light Fantastic" on the Grassy River Shore with German Frauleins as Partners.
(International Film Service.)

THE NEW GERMAN FIREPROOF AIR-PLANE, Which Recently Made a Successful Trial Flight from Johannisthal Aviation Field Near Berlin with Six Passengers. It Is Made of Metal Throughout, and Has an Enclosed Cabin Enabling Passengers in Ordinary Clothing to Travel in Comfort.
(From Times Wide World Photos.)

(International Film Service.)

AMERICAN SOLDIERS, Who Finally Reached Berlin, Are Thoroughly Enjoying It: A Sight-seeing Party Sailing Down the Spree.

(International Film Service.)

RUBBER STILL AT A PREMIUM IN GERMANY: DEFENSE MINISTER NOSKE'S NEW CYCLE BATTALION on Patrol Duty Through the Streets of Berlin, the Tires of Most of Their Bicycles Being Made of Coiled Springs Instead of the Customary Pneumatic Tires.

LYING IN WAIT FOR BOLSHEVIST MARAUDING PARTIES: SQUAD OF BRITISH AND SLAV TROOPS GUARDING THE SINGLE TRACK RAILROAD, the Only Artery of Rail Travel from the Heart of Russia Northward to Archangel. Bolshevist Forces Were Known to be Operating Just Beyond the Curve.
(© Underwood & Underwood.)

LONELY GRAVES OF THE FIRST TWO AMERICAN SOLDIERS TO BE KILLED SOUTH OF MURMANSK IN THE ARCHANGEL SECTION. Buried Here Are Lieutenant Frank B. Garrett of Gatesville, Texas, and Sergeant (First Class) Frederick Patterson, Los Angeles, Cal.
(© Underwood & Underwood.)

MERMAIDS OF THE HIPPODROME'S "HAPPY DAYS": ALL MEMBERS ARE OF THE FIRST ORGANIZED LABOR UNION OF CHORUS GIRLS IN AMERICA.
(© Underwood & Underwood.)